VOYAGES OF THE GOOD SHIP '28

Senior Class History by HAZEL MARSHALL

SEPTEMBER 1924 a crew of thirteen happily set sail on the Good Ship Excelsior over the sea of High School Days. They were Don Schmidt, Lily Schmidt, Alice Shaw, Ivez Parker, Marian Jones, Marcia Dillingham, Hazel Marshall, Alice Hamman, Ivis Babcock, Margorie Drake, Ruth Johnson, Leslie Sanders, and Edward Esserstor. Emerald Isle was the first port entered. For some months our boat was anchored near this verdant place of spring like beauty. There we met Mr. Welch, who was willing to teach us the plant and animal life of this new land, but his lessons soon gave us the Biology Illsues. He also taught us Algebra which we thought would be interesting, but in a few weeks he began to teach us to roam tea parties where the only refreshments were "X" and "Z", served with clink and errors. Miss Yulkins taught us the "Anglia Latinum," the speech of Emerald Isle and Miss Corlew gave us lessons in English that we might keep our mother tongue as mild as May we had completed our explorations and sailed home for three months.

The following September we embarked again, although our crew was less because of the desertion of Alice Shaw and Miriam Jones. Soon we drifted to Applesauce Island where we found other instructors ready to meet us. Mrs. Bookelmann took us to a bridge from which we watched (dread) leading his legions thru Gaul. Miss Brown approached us in Ancient History and in English. That we thought he able to survive other places of travel, Mr. Carlson explained the mysteries of geometry.

This year, September we again sailed over the sea, directing our track to the Isles of Greece. Here we were greeted by two beautiful jesses, Thalia and Cleo. Under the guidance of the latter, we enjoyed the famous Liberty Bell of 1927. Thalia directed us in the production of a play "The Delegates" which we presented April six and seven. During this time we continued our interest in Geometry. It was a geometry and history lesson about natural phenomena through a study of physics.

And now five are completing the fourth voyage: Alice Hamman, Margorie Drake, Hazel Marshall and Leslie Sanders. We have been spending our time on Pressure Island, studying English, Arithmetic, Geography, Civics, Vocations and Economics. Our teachers have had to watch us carefully because we are continually slipping away from our task to climb the Sky Glass Mountains and gaze through rose-colored glasses toward the "Isle of Golden Dreams," our future!

Class Poem of 1928

I.

The days of school were fleeting fast
As through Liberty's door did pass
A class who bore by day and night
A banner with this strange device,

Excelsior

II.

Four happy years they did each task
With honest effort to the last
Four happy years they saw the light
That led to Graduation Night,

Excelsior

III.

Now travelers by one faith they're bound
To travel all the world around
Still carrying high through years of strife
The banner with the same device,

Excelsior

Abstract. The effect of the temperature of the environment on the growth of Escherichia coli in a nutrient broth was studied. The results show that the growth rate of E. coli is significantly affected by the temperature of the environment, with the highest growth rate observed at 37°C. The growth rate decreases as the temperature of the environment decreases, and increases as the temperature of the environment increases. The results also show that the growth rate of E. coli is significantly affected by the concentration of the nutrient broth, with the highest growth rate observed at 1.0% concentration. The growth rate decreases as the concentration of the nutrient broth decreases, and increases as the concentration of the nutrient broth increases.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems in the UK is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for mental health care, which aims to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- People with mental health problems should be treated as individuals, with their own needs and wishes.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to live in the community.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to work and study.

The strategy also aims to improve the lives of people with mental health problems by:

- Improving the quality of care.
- Improving the access to care.
- Improving the support for carers.

Junior Class History

NIGHTMARE, 1925, seventeen Freshies came to Liberty Center to experiment with radios.

Each member was required to have a receiving set that would receive four or more stations broadcasting on different wave lengths. Each station had its respective period for broadcasting, which was some time between 8:30 A. M. and 3:40 P. M.

For two years we tuned in on station L-A-T-I-N which was broadcasted by Bookbalm. Three years we struggled with station E-N-E-I-S-H broadcasted by Albany and Bookbalm. For a year we listened to station A-L-G-E-I-R-A broadcasted by Carlson. Then the tubes burned out and we went to station O-E-O-M-E-E-R-Y. After a year the static became so intense we changed to station G-E-O-G-R-A-P-H-Y broadcasted by Stimme. During this time Carlson was broadcasting from H-I-S-P-A-N-O-L-Y. We have lost many of our classmates because their batteries ran down and they failed to have them charged while others lost interest and left us.

The cost of broadcasting was paid through taxes and the remaining was free.

At the end of our four years we hope that some of our listeners will go in the broadcasting business at Liberty Center or set up a field of knowledge for themselves. At least we hope to be Nineties and have the same memories as before.

Hannah (her maid)	Norma Bachman
Mr. Randall Meredith	Bertion Blackman
Miss Annabelle Lovelace	Evelyn Lamhall
Katie—a maid in the Meredith home	Leona Hensel-long
Teddy Travers	Myron Smedman
Margory Meredith	Dorothy Gustafson
Mr. Byron Fleming	Gleam Olson
Mr. Johnson—a detective	William Fingolath

T H E S T O R Y

Sarah Lovelace dominates every activity and interest of her family and household. Annabelle, the younger sister, outwardly accepts but has secret aspirations toward pretty clothes, and romance. Hannah, the faithful maid, adds color to her drab, orderly existence by absorbing love stories from the movies and listening at keyholes.

Randall Meredith tries to interest Sarah in investing money in his aeroplane motor. He meets Annabelle and each becomes secretly interested in the other. Later she learns he is the younger brother of her own brother-in-law.

Sarah gets a letter asking her to come to Long Island to preside over her sister's summer home while she and Mr. Meredith go to a health resort. Sarah is so absorbed in her own affairs that she sends Annabelle in her place, hoping that the faithful Hannah will keep her from showing what a "little goose" she is.

Annabelle stops in New York and buys a gorgeous outfit of youthful clothes and a golden wig. She knows her niece Margory, now seventeen, has no memory of her aunts. She finds at the Meredith home Mr. Byron Fleming with whom Margory is infatuated. Teddy Travers, once Margory's glum and boyish lover,

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

By EDA JOHNSON

SEPTEMBER 7th, all of the Eighth grade graduates from Liberty Center except Leonard Novoske enrolled as Freshmen in high school. They were joined by three pupils from Flint Lake School, Wallace Brannard and Ethel and Gordon Firebaugh. Robert Olson came from Jackson Township, making our total enrollment the largest Freshman class in the history of Liberty Center.

We just demonstrated our high ideals by choosing to take Latin rather than Commercial Arithmetic. Algebra proved hard for some. English was always interesting on "current event" days on which we were reading classics. Community Civics and Vocational classes a lot of popularity, especially for those who do not read much.

Our boys and girls both were especially interested in Basketball, our girls being on the school team. The boys' captain, Ed, is our tallest and most modest lad.

Our part of the Festival was to put on a Circus in Assembly. All who attended our show agreed that we had a prize aggregation of beauties and freaks.

We took our turn at serving hot lunch. The way the "hot dogs," jello, and cocoa disappeared shows what splendid cooks and servers we are. We were proud to be the class thus making the largest contribution to the athletic fund.

We are hoping and planning big things for next year when we become Sophs.

LaMae thinks the Eighth Reader is an advertisement because the interesting stories are never finished but you must finish them by reading a certain book.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL 1927-28

(By MARCIA DILLINGHAM)

N SEPTEMBER, 1927, Miss Stinson took Mrs. Albery's place as girls' coach. We have had a happy year playing basket ball together, even though we lost every game we played. We had lots of good training and valuable experience and have enjoyed meeting the girls from other county schools on the courts.

During the early days of fall we practiced outside on the school courts, but with the coming of autumn rains our practice ceased except for a trip or so to the Crisman gym. When we decided to enter the tournament we were able to procure the use of the Brown County gymnasium in Valparaiso for a few practices.

As the girls were getting new suits we wanted something new to wear to the tournament too. We finally decided to buy silk sweaters for the school colors and have scarfs and head bands made. The head bands turned out rather a joke because they were made to match to us as we played that not a girl was wearing one by the end of the first quarter.

The line up is as follows:

Marcia Dillingham (Captain)	Right Forward
Ella LaHaye	Left Forward
Norma Behrman	Jumping Center
Alice Hamrahn	Side Center
Beth Biggs	Right Guard
Enid Firebaugh	Left Guard
Substitutes— Iris Babcock, Eda Johnson and Leona Handorfing.

(Corrine Jacobson and Irene Hunsar played during the early part of the season. Mirel Crowl goes to the eighth grade girls, LaMaie Blackman, Lois Hall and Anna Johnson, for their loyalty in playing on the second team. We can look forward to a good team again next year, for we gain three players in place of our three Seniors.

Annual Boys' Basketball Report

(By EDWARD HOPEMAN)

October 6th.—Crisman 24, Liberty 7.
Crisman won after a hard fought battle. Peck sank an easy short shot to start the game. It was a game of short shots.

October 14th.—Washington 20, Liberty 12.
This was a tight game, but finally Washington forged ahead with wonderful playing by Greenwall, their captain.

October 18th.—Morgan 29, Liberty 12.
Liberty paid their respects to Morgan by being defeated. Morgan seemed to have an eye for short shots in which the forward and center took part.

October 28th.—Washington 28, Liberty 12.
Liberty played well the first half, but Washington got a scoring streak the second half.

November 10th.—Crisman 13, Liberty 17.
Liberty started with a field goal and led through the whole game. Crisman scoring most during the last four minutes of play. They lost a one point lead when Spedman sank a pretty long shot and Olson followed by a foul shot and the game ended.

November 17th.—Chesterton 10, Liberty 17.
Chesterton Seconds had a big surprise in the Liberty five. All Liberty players took an active part in the scoring.

December 9th.—Chesterton 13, Liberty 28.
Our winning streak held and we played good basketball for a team without a gym. Good team work continued. We enjoyed playing each Jones second team.

December 16th.—Boone Grove 32, Liberty 38.
Spedman left the game during the last few minutes and the Blackman replaced him. He immediately made a basket and the game ended 31 to 31. The tie was played off in overtime, our boys scoring fast, Boone Grove making but one more point on a foul shot.

January 13th.—Merrillville 15, Liberty 37.
We did most scoring during the last half, Figoletti making many points, and Olson not so far behind.

January 19th.—Wheeler 21, Liberty 15.
This was much different from previous Wheeler-Liberty games. Their tight defense and the low ceiling caused Liberty to lose.

January 27th.—Morgan 17, Liberty 20.
A tournament game. Liberty led most of the time, but once the score was tied.

January 28th.—Washington 18, Liberty 14.
We were defeated, but with honors. This was a close semi final game, but Washington took the lead after Rike began sinking some fine long shots.

February 8th.—Washington 25, Liberty 10.
Washington ran wild, it was a rough and tumble game. We got a beating, but we'll be ready again next year.

February 24th.—Boone Grove 24, Liberty 15.
We defeated Boone Grove's new gym by letting them beat us. We were short on regular men, and the shift of players weakened our plays.

This has been Liberty's most successful year. We lost eight games, but four of them were before we found our stride. The games we won were against trained, practiced teams and were all hard fought contests. We lose only Sanders by graduation, so practically the same team hope to play together again next year.

SEPTEMBER

The gathering of the clans. We met Miss Stinson and find eighteen very smart Freshies on the east side of the assembly.

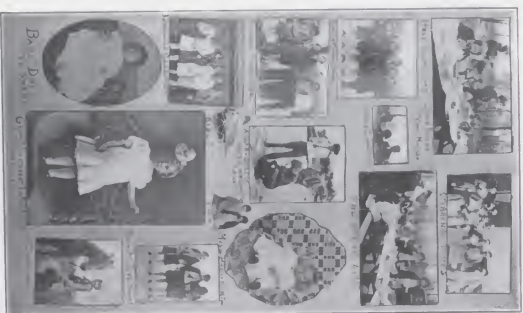

Our numbers increased by those who took part in Klan Celebrations and Laton Day parades yesterday.

The Curtis Publishing Company sent a representative to start a contest in procuring magazine subscriptions. Helen Beserman captains the "Reds" and Franklin Peck the "Greens."

North Atlantic notes:
The "Black Yuletide" Mrs. & Miss Nelson didn't get us too warm because the thought that took was a joke.

OF OTHER

- 4 Annual football election. The Bonsters took wins.
First basketball game played here with Crisman.

At the entrance was a very large gate. It had two big gates. Harlan, Arnold. The gate keeper (George) was so very small but he opened the big gate. We entered a beautiful flower garden. The gate (Vincent) took us down a narrow path. There were flower beds on either side. As we passed the honey suckles, a sandy little humming bird (Stanley) flew over and sat on the gate's cap. We walked on down the path looking at all the flowers. When we passed the juncy bed, there were three large cut-off flies (Harold, William, Robert H.) flying over it.

Seventh and Eighth History

1927-1928

THE beginning of the school term we had a total of thirty pupils, fourteen in the eighth grade and sixteen in the seventh grade. Those entering Liberty Center from district schools are: Lois and Anna in Hall, Donald and Avis Babcock, Edna Pearson, Dorothy Nealey, Paul Hoffman, Henry Hoelscher, Alice Bingham, Maxine Minger, Juliet Borg, Ralph Lathing, and James Montgomery. November fourteenth, Brantley Reed came from the southland to join the old merry band of the eighth graders. February twenty-first, Lanna Spears entered the eighth grade from (Pisum) The pupils who entered Liberty Center at the first grade and leave gone through these seven and eight years of striving together are: Anna Johnson, Herman Schmidt, and Elestor Metolterick who went eight years and Edna Johnson, Kenneth Hyden, Rosalie Dan, and Leonard Sanders who have reached the seventh grade.

At the Fall Festival our room presented two Minstrel numbers, "The Dashing Darkies," and "Mr. Put-it-Off." Two songs were sung by the ministers who were accompanied at the piano by Anna Oreskovich, a seventh grader and Ella Lathayne, a Freshie. At Christmas time we had a party which the teacher had prepared for us.

Among the most amusing people in our room are Harold and Donald whose mischief is always getting them into trouble. The Seventh and Eighth graders have had an enjoyable year and hope to see all the English graders return next year as Freshies.

ANNA JOHNSON

Mrs. Pearson—Anna Johnson, go to the waste basket and leave your room there.
Edna B. went to the basket to look for her lost papers.
Anna J.—What you looking for my friend?

Jokes On Us

Mrs. Pearson—"What are some fish found in England?"
Anna J.—"Frogs."

Mrs. Pearson, was naming presidents from memory for the eighth grade history class.
Elestor absent minded—"Did you learn them?"

Leonard looking at the floor?
Teacher—"Leonard what are you studying?"
Leonard—"The floor."

Mrs. Pearson—"What kind of a verb is love?"
Lois—"I don't know but ask Anna J."

Mrs. Pearson (in geography class)—"Harold come to the map and take a boat from New York to Japan."
Harold—"Should I go on land or water?"

Mrs. Pearson was talking about the Book of Ruth.
Anna J.—"Is Ruth a girl?"
LaMae—"No, she is a boy."

In history class the eighth grade was talking of inventions.
Avis—"I wonder who invented kissing?"
Herman—"Oh, some crazy sheik who lost his head."

(Donald wasting school time)
Avis—"Mrs. Pearson, Donald is acting funny down here."
Mrs. Pearson—"Donald, you stay in at recess."
Donald—"Well, she kicked me first."
Mrs. Pearson—"Only thing I regret is she didn't kick you hard enough."

Mrs. Pearson—"Lois, is Paul bothering you again?"
Lois—"Yes, he won't keep his arms where they belong."

The first social event of the year was a Halloween party. We spent a very enjoyable afternoon playing games and taking part in various contests. We especially enjoyed the "grim evening contest." Just as we thought the party was about to end, Miss Hoffman asked two of the larger boys to make a fire in the yard. We at once became anxious to know what was to happen next. Our anxiety was soon quelled, however, when someone appeared carrying two baskets filled with—"Buns and Frank-forters!"

In December when we were busily working on our Christmas program we were joined by two new pupils. David Borg who entered our first grade and Darius Ekson, who entered the second grade.

On the evening of December twenty-second, we gave our Christmas entertainment and received many compliments.

Our third long to be remembered event took place on February fourteenth, in the form of a Valentine party.

Late in February we were joined by three more pupils, Robert Vastine and John Spear in the fourth grade and Evelyn Vastine in the first grade.

Phares School

WHEN we came to school ready to start a new semester we found a new teacher awaiting us. The first day our book lists were given out and our seats assigned. The second day school started in earnest with the following enrollment:

First Grade — Margery Hannahan, James Kellner, and Katherine Wheeler

Second Grade — Eleanor Balke, Zane Phares Milton Wheeler, Fourth Grade — Maxine Hannahan, Teddy Makowsky, and

Harold Leuburg

Fifth Grade — Leroy Leuburg and Helen Balke.

Sixth Grade — Bertha Wohlschlag, Albert Wheeler, and Theodore Leuburg.

Seventh Grade — Earl Hannahan, Evelyn Skowinski, Merle Hannahan, and Carroll Hannahan.

School was very interesting with our new teacher. Our first party was at Halloween. Our lunch consisted of apples, cake, and cookies. We were dressed in funny clothes and had masks on. Games were played, such as the cat and the mouse, and New York. We also had relay races.

In November, Merle and Evelyn colored and cut out some turkeys to paste in the windows for Thanksgiving. Leroy ran into the wall and almost mashed his nose flat. We had two days off for Thanksgiving.

December found us busy getting ready for examinations and our Christmas program. All lived through the examination to enjoy Old Santa Claus and a tree laden with presents.

January second found us back in school to start a new year and leave the old one underneath the snow. Some of us were snow bound and couldn't get out but in a few days we got there. Many new clothes and ornaments were to be seen. So I looked as though Santa Claus was gone.

February fourteenth we had a Valentine box. We all received nice valentines.

We are now all interested in "The Post Control Contest." There hasn't been a morning we haven't had either some rat tails,

Cole School

N SEPTEMBER fifth nearly forty pupils entered Cole School. They were as follows:

First Grade—Lillian Gropp, Walter Keene, Mary Antonich, Don Cole, Billie Brendt.

Second Grade—Grace Hineine, Anna Pope, Anna Lind, Lillian Michaels, Frank Nisle, Grover Biggs, Roy Rioda, Delbert Biggs, Vale Caprons, Lyle Dillingham.

Third Grade—Allan Dillingham, Bertha LaHayne, Jack Cole, Maynard Prosen, George Antonich.

Fourth Grade—Lawrence Prosen.

Fifth Grade—Nettie Rose Caprons, Alice Hineine, Ernest Spencer.

Sixth Grade—Helen Dillingham, Wayne McOrkel, Ross McOrkel, Louis Antonich, Inez Thomas, Katie Antonich.

Seventh Grade—Margaret Hineine, Iris Thomas, Barbara Lind.

Eighth Grade—Hazel Rosenquist, Dorothy Michaels, Leota Spencer, Maroon Hineine, Paul Dillingham, Carlton Dillingham, Elmer Johnson.

After Christmas Lillian Gropp did not come back because of eye trouble.

The school was larger than formerly because Lindeman and Cole school had been combined, making a two teacher school with Miss Hooekelberg teaching the lower grades and Miss Johnson the higher ones. Miss Stevens took the difficult task of teaching us music. All eight grades had their seats in one room but each four grades did half of its reciting in another room.

We played many games at school but our favorite game was "scrub" which greatly resembles baseball.

Our school work progressed smoothly until the first part of December, when we started to prepare for our Christmas program. Then it is to be feared that certain pupils paid more attention to their parts in it than they did to their studies. Their efforts were not in vain as our program was a success. After it was over we

THE OUTFITTERS OF TEAMS

THE MOCK TRIAL

THE afternoon of September 30th, when Mr. Carlisle was in charge of assembly, Willie and Melvin stalked as proudly and landed him a folded paper. As soon as he had read the contents, the boys took him by the arm and escorted him to the office. There his coat was removed and searched and then Sheriff Shanahan ordered the prisoner for such he seemed to be, to the basement.

All three school had returned in the basement in which was conducted a session of court and were promptly called to order by the W.C. George Vintworth. The presiding judge was none other than LEONARD Vinton Thompson. A jury composed of the President and two as sworn in and, having chosen Edward Hoffman as their foreman, they took their places. The case against the defendant was introduced as follows:

The prosecuting attorney, Captain Blackman, made a stirring appeal, saying our esteemed teacher with stealing six silver teaspoons placed in the assembly desk by Miss Strimson that very morning. Another wise donor, (Lyon Olson, volunteer to defend the teacher, calling to mind his previous blameless career and requesting that the jury's judgment until his guilt was really proven.

The prosecuting attorney established the following facts:

1. Six silver suitcases had been purchased by Miss Strasson, put in a package of a certain description, brought to Liberty Center and deposited in the lower right hand drawer of the assembly desk that morning.
2. The assembly hall provided at that desk all morning, had been used to encourage the drawers and have to look at glassed expression as he put his hands in his coat pockets.
3. The drawers were placed at home and the package of suitcases were sent.

Finally, the deputy was called forward with the prisoner in front. Before the eyes of the entire court, he extracted the package in question. The witnesses whose precise and accurate testimony established this chain of evidence were Miss Shinnon, Norma Beirnsdahl, Dorothea Gustafson, Edith Drake, Evelyn Linnahl, Cora Jacobson, Bernice Thelick and Ruth Briggs.

Then Mr. Olson undertook the defenses suggesting that perhaps all this was propaganda by the authors as revenge for some recent stiff geometry assignments. By an equally positive group of witnesses, Lucile Dan, Gladys Biggs, Victor Askunimus, George Shouter, Alfred Penrice and Raymond Lockberg, the lawyer for the defense (and friend to Mr. Carlson's exemplary past) Raymond said that Mr. Carlson's bride even declared that he never threw her biscuits at the cat. Finally came a surprise witness, Franklin Peck, who swore that he had overheard Mrs. Lockermann planning with Miss Stinson for the purchase of silver spoons as the school's wedding gift to Mr. Carlson. And how, concluded Mr. Olson, can a man steal what is really his?

The jury was distracted to consider the facts in the case and bear in mind the witticist jokes played by deputy Fighliah on the prisoner. They returned a verdict of "not guilty" but demanded three things of him:

First I must accept the spoons with the hearty congratulations of L. C. L. S.

Second—He must promise to wash and polish them regularly.

Third—He must get one brick of ice cream with all six spoons.

At the conclusion of the week the Senior Girls received no mention to all.

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 250 million to 800 million (FAO 1996). The number of people who are malnourished has increased from 1.2 billion to 2.2 billion (FAO 1996).

There are a number of reasons why the world's population is becoming increasingly malnourished. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for food. The world's population is growing rapidly, and the demand for food is increasing accordingly. This has led to a number of problems, including the depletion of natural resources, the loss of biodiversity, and the increasing use of pesticides and fertilizers.

Another reason why the world's population is becoming increasingly malnourished is the increasing inequality in the distribution of food. The rich countries of the world are able to produce and consume more food than the poor countries. This has led to a number of problems, including the loss of food security, the loss of income, and the loss of health.

There are a number of ways in which the world's population can be made more food secure. One of the main ways is to increase the production of food. This can be done by increasing the use of natural resources, by increasing the use of technology, and by increasing the use of labor. Another way is to increase the distribution of food. This can be done by increasing the income of the poor, by increasing the health of the poor, and by increasing the food security of the poor.

THE FESTIVAL

FRIDAY evening, November 18th, the annual fall festival was held at Liberty Center. As usual each room had a program and the crowd entertained, enjoying the entertainment afforded and closing the evening's fun with refreshments in the basement.

The granary room had a "Fanny Folks" with some most amusing, amusing by queer faces and comical costumes. In Mrs. Wessman's room the intermediate grades gave two plays, "The Photographer" and "So the Story Grew." Allan M. Meisch had the title part in the first and his shop was visited by some interesting individuals and families. Many storerooms contributed costumes to add color and snap to this little play. Sounds of loudly floated from the second floor where Mrs. Pearson's people seemed to have turned negro all at once. "The Dashing Darbies" was a lively minstrel and "Mr. Put-it-off" won much applause. Don, Harold, and Avis were full of ducky jokes.

The Freshman class had a circus in the High School assembly. The decorations made the big room resemble a tent. After the spectators took their places on the benches the show was opened by a grand parade. Then the ringmaster, Emanuel Novoske, exhibited his freaks and monstrosities one by one. A hand discoursed sweet music between acts. Following is a list of the attractions:

- |                    |                                    |
|--------------------|------------------------------------|
| The Strong Man     | John Dreskovich                    |
| The Strong Man     | Norval Hyndene, Frederick Ziegmann |
| The Giant          | Wallace Branham, Robert Babcock    |
| The Baby           | Edwarrd Hoffman                    |
| MacDonald's Joke   | Lois Hall, Fred Fritchbaugh        |
| McGon's Comedy     | Eula Johnson                       |
| Maibrey            | Carver Babcock                     |
| The Blackboard Man | Robert Olson                       |

- |                                |                          |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Band Master                    | Charlie Bloom            |
| The Band                       | Heleen Esserman, Wilfer  |
| Baseman, Gordon                | Firebaugh, Helen Lasslo, |
| LaMaie Blackman, Irene Huszar. |                          |
| Belton                         | The Hairless Dog         |

In room 13, the Junior boys had the Katzenjamer Kastle, and presented a new chapter in the lives of the mischievous Hans and Fritz. How "those little rascals" did "betoozie" der Captain's supper, especially the blueberry pie. Altho the show was repeated five or six times, Hans and Fritz continued to eat pie and more pie to the bitter end. The cast consisted of:

- |                  |                 |
|------------------|-----------------|
| Mrs. Katzenjamer | Glenn Olson     |
| Der Captain      | George Shroeter |
| Der Professor    | Benton Blackman |
| Fritz            | Mevin Smedman   |
| Hans             | Willie Fighah   |

In the basement were found the Sophomores with their circus booth and Eskimo pies and the restaurant where the Junior girls sold coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches and pie a la mode.

In the hall where they caught prospective purchasers going and coming, the Seniors had a dainty booth. There they sold attractive bouquets of vari-colored yarn and felt flowers, high school am bands and Christmas cards.

The Festival is always a source of fun and brings to each room a welcome sum of money for needed equipment. The High School Athletic Fund absorbs the profits from the projects managed by high school pupils. So after all the ice cream is scraped from the Freezers, after the last song is sung, after the last conflict is swept up and the last balloon is broken—we are still glad we had a Festival.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the principle of 'ageism', which is the process of stereotyping and discriminating against older people. The strategy aims to ensure that older people are treated as individuals, and that their needs are met.

The strategy also aims to ensure that older people are able to live independently in their own homes, and that they are able to participate in the community. The strategy is based on the principle of 'active ageing', which is the process of encouraging older people to remain active and engaged in the community. falls desperately in love with the pretty young man. The plans for Randall's invention are stolen, every one is suspected and the thief turns out to be the suave Mr. Fleming. Miss Sarah approves the scene and exposes Annabelle's disguise. Randall confesses he loved best the dainty, demure girl he met first, so Annabelle's story has a happy ending even tho she has been a "perfect little goose."

mouse tails, or sparrows.

Well May will soon be here. Time surely does fly. It won't be long and May will be crowning our May Queen. Then in a few days school will be over. Of course we'll all be glad although we had a pleasant year.

"GOLD SCHOOL"

went home little dreaming we should never leave school there again. Our Christmas vacation ended all too soon, but to give us a longer one an obliging snow storm came and blocked the roads so that the bus could not get through. A few days later our school-house was destroyed by fire. When school opened again we went to the Lindeman school. Our books had nearly all been burned, but several schools of the county rendered us noble assistance by donating us some books. In a few weeks our school work was again progressing quite smoothly in spite of crowded quarters.

—MARION HINELINE

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has also become an important employer of women, with 5.5 million women employed in the public sector in 1995, compared with 4.5 million in 1980.

There are a number of reasons why the public sector has become an important employer of women. One reason is that the public sector has a high proportion of women in its workforce. In 1995, 88% of the public sector workforce were women, compared with 78% in 1980. This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are traditionally held by women, such as teaching, nursing, and social work.

Another reason why the public sector has become an important employer of women is that it has a high proportion of jobs that are part-time or flexible. In 1995, 22% of the public sector workforce were employed on part-time or flexible contracts, compared with 12% in 1980. This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are traditionally held by women, such as teaching, nursing, and social work.

A third reason why the public sector has become an important employer of women is that it has a high proportion of jobs that are well paid. In 1995, the average salary of a public sector employee was £18,000, compared with £15,000 in 1980. This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of jobs that are traditionally held by women, such as teaching, nursing, and social work.

AUNT EMMA HAWKINS is a kind hearted woman who has given a home to the orphaned daughters of her two brothers.

Margaret, the elder cousin, is a sophisticated college girl, but Grace is a jolly little tomboy more concerned about the neighborhood cats than about her own future.

Margaret comes home from college to find Mike, the South's chauffeur, popular with the whole family. He plays tennis with Grace, helps Katie, the maid, in household emergencies, instructs Miss Hattie, the neighborhood gossip, how to run her Ford and is the mistress of the household.

Margaret becomes interested in Mike after she hears rumors of his having money. She blackmails Grace's name and tries to elope with Mike who is not very happy over the situation. Their car breaks down and Margaret comes home. Then at last Mike gets his chance to tell his real identity and to propose to the one he really loves, Grace the tomboy.

Sayings of the Wise

Miss Stinson—"Who else was influenced toward Christianity by this war?"
Practical Peck—"Constantinople."

Mr. Carlson—"What are Jesuits?"
Willie—"People who are very little and sailed around in balloons."

Raymond Boeckelberg—"I'd like to see a woman boss me around."
Longfue Jacobson—"You just wait."

Miss Stinson—"What do the people live on in Africa?"
Willie F—"They live on other people."

A T R A G E D Y
I woke had to look upon a face
Sheet white, and cold;
Oh friend, the agony I felt
(Could never half be told)
We'd faced together but a year
Two souls it seemed, to see
Thirty gentle hands outstretched and still
Then faded so much for me,
My awakening thoughts had been of one
Who now to sleep had dropped;
'T was hard to realize, that my friend,
My dollar watch—had stopped!

Miss Boeckelmann—"Who can recite some of Thianatopsis?"
Martha—"Will Gray's Elegy do?"
Miss Stinson—"Who was William of Orange?"
Martha—"Wife of Mary Queen of England."

Mrs. Boeckelmann had been counting how many Saturdays we had made up.
Martha—"Will we have to make up to-morrow?"

Mr. Carlson—"What is the principle of the steam engine?"
George O—"The teakettle."

Edith—"What star is so bright in the east about two A. M.?"
Juniors (in chorus)—"How do we know?"

Benton (reading Chaucer)—"What is a 'friere'?"
Mrs. Boeckelmann—"That is the same as 'friar'."
Benton—"Friar? What's that, a cook?"

Mr. Carlson—"I want all of you who have not read Longfellow's Evangeline to read it as soon as you can."
Evelyn—"Can we find it in Hawthorne's Twice Told Tales?"

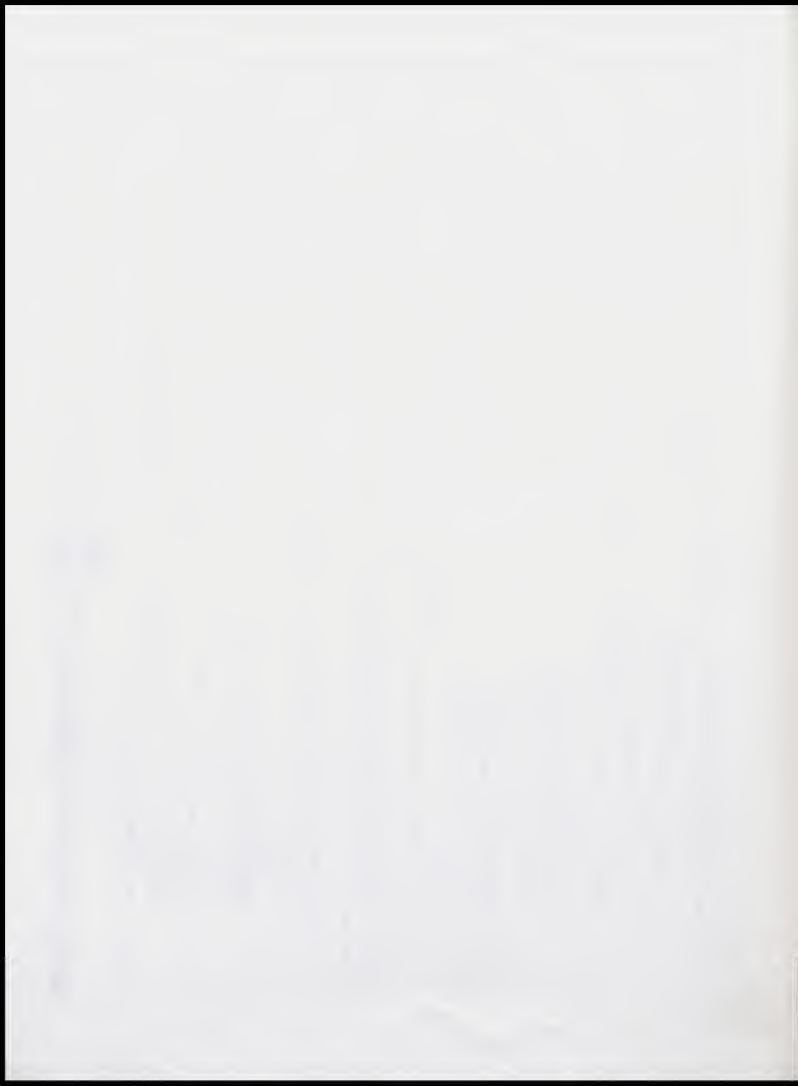

Willie (in history class)—"Congress made the ten commandments."

Jack and Jill went up the hill
Sixty mile or better
A cop unkind was right behind
Now they're seeking bail by letter

My Bonny looked into the gas tank
My Bonny hit a match to see
If some gas was left in the gas tank—
(Oh, bring back my Bonny to me!)

Miss Stinson (analyzing words of a sentence)—"And Victor is 'love'."
Victor—"It's a grand and glorious feeling!"

Miss Stinson—"Where is the palace of 'Cossus'?"
Soph—"In ruins."

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) and is projected to increase by a further 1.5 million by 2010 (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over in the UK is projected to increase from 10.5 million in 1999 to 12.5 million in 2010, with the number of people aged 75 and over increasing from 3.5 million to 4.5 million in the same period (Office for National Statistics 2000). The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is projected to be particularly marked in the 75–84 age range, with the number of people in this age range increasing from 1.5 million in 1999 to 2.5 million in 2010 (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health and social care needs of the ageing population. The World Health Organization (WHO) has identified ageing as one of the major public health challenges of the 21st century (WHO 1999). The WHO has also identified the need to develop strategies to promote the health and well-being of older people (WHO 1999). The WHO has identified the need to develop strategies to promote the health and well-being of older people (WHO 1999).
